

Laboratorio Internazionale di Genetica e Biofisica
International Laboratory of Genetics and Biophysics

Napoli

25th July, 1967

via G. Marconi 10 (già via Claudio) casella postale 3061 telefono 615.122 telegrammi labgebi

Professor J. Lederberg,
Department of Genetics,
Stanford University School of Medicine,
Palo Alto,
Calif.

Dear Joshua,

Thank you very much for your letter of 23rd June. I was very excited to read that there may be an interest at Stanford for a venture in higher education in Italy. I have got out of my files all the material I had prepared almost ten years ago and I am shipping it to you right away. I hope also to let you have, in a few days, some more data of a similar study that was made by other people in Rome two or three years ago. As I am leaving tonight for an absence of a few days, I have no time to go over the old notes and try to adjoin them to present things, but I will try to do it in early August and I will then let you have further data. As you know, I am very much interested in this possibility and I would be very glad to give whatever help I can for producing an up-to-date project. If necessary, I could come to Stanford for this purpose.

Thank you for the nice article in the Washington Post. I will make a few Xerox copies and will mail them to a number of politicians interested in the technological gap.

All the best,

Cordially,

A.A. Buzzati-Traverso